THE EDITOR OF THE ROCK HILL RECORD.

We have known some of our contemporaries and others, from time to time to undertake to throw off on Mr. Schwarr, of the Rock Hill Record on, the ground that he is a "Yankee." The only object we can see to such flings is that those who make them seem to think that the people they make them to have no more sense than to be prejudiced there by. As a matter of fact, Mr. Schwarr was born and raised in the south, and the only foundation for calling him a Yankee is based on the circumstance of his having published a newspaper in Pennsylvania for six years. But all this is of no consequence. True manhood and loyalty to high principles are of more consequence than geography of birthplace. There is no monopoly of them either north or south. We have known Mr. Schwarr to be rather far afield at times, because of unfamiliarity with local history and traditions, and that is something that is liable to happen to any newcomer, whether he hails from Maine or Texas; but we have never yet known this gentleman to try to maintain even a doubtful position, after he has been accurately informed as to the facts.—Yorkville Enquirer.

Our esteemed contemporary very properly rebukes those who have been so silly as to "throw off" on the editor of the Rock Hill Record on the alleged ground that he is a "Yankee." There is no prejudice in this country against persons who come here from the north. On the contrary, they are cordially welcomed. Some of South Carolina's most useful and progressive citizens today are men of northern birth and "raising"—men noted for their activities in the upbuilding of the State. It is character and manhood that count in the south—not the place of one's nativity.

However, as the Enquirer says, Mr. Schwarr was "born and raised in the south." But it makes no difference from whence he came, he is making a noise like a good citizen and is publishing one of the best papers in the state, a journal which would reflect credit on any community. It is only through The Record that we know Mr. Schwarr, as we have never had the pleasure of meeting him, but we recognize in his writings the true man—one unselfishly devoted to the best interests of the city and State in which he has cast his lot.

The South Carolina primaries are to be held next Monday. All appearances indicate that the best man for Governor will win; as to the best man for Senator, that is not so certain.—Charlotte Observer.

Our esteemed contemporary is mistaken as to the day of our primary. The election will be held next Tuesday—not Monday.

Dr. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, has given out some interesting figures in relation to prohibition. He says that forty million people in the United States—nearly half the population of the nation—now live in "prohibition territory," that is to say, in places where saloons are forbidden by law. About eight million people abolished saloons last year, and at the rate of thirty a day they are being closed this year, says Dr. Baker.

Now they say that the prohibition bill is full of bad grammar.—Augusta Herald.

Well, what of it? Isn't the country full of bad whiskey?

Gov. Ansel's Labor Day Proclamation.

The governor has issued the following proclamation: Whereas, the legislature of South Carolina has set apart the first Monday in September of each year as a legal holiday and conforming with the legislative action, and in cheerful compliance, I, F. M. Ansel, governor of the State of South Carolina, do hereby recommend that the day above named, being the 7th day of Sept. 1908, and Labor day, be set apart to be observed in such manner and by such ceremonies as may be appropriate.

"I recommend that, in so far as it is practicable, factories, stores, offices, and other places wherein labor is employed, be closed, so that every working man and woman may be given an opportunity to enjoy the day and to participate in the exercises that may be held, and that the day be observed and celebrated by employers and employees and all who feel an interest in their country's welfare.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed hereto, on the 18th day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight, and in the one hundred and thirty-third year of the independence of the United States.

M. F. Ansel,
Governor.

By the governor:
R. M. McCown,
Secretary of State."

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Funderburk Pharmacy, E. W. Hammond, Heath Springs, S. C. S.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Lancaster Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Lancaster readers.

Mrs. B. F. Greer, living on E. Oakland Ave., Rock Hill, N. C., says: "For several years I suffered from kidney trouble and the doctors whom I consulted said I was a victim of diabetes. My kidneys acted too frequently, my back pained me a great deal and I felt nervous. The kidney secretions were disordered and I used a number of different remedies and consulted physicians but found no more than slight relief. About two months ago I procured Doan's Kidney Pills, used them as directed and they have helped me a great deal. The pain across the small of my back has disappeared, the kidneys are regular and I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to others as a reliable kidney remedy."

Card from Candidate S. J. Funderburk.

I take this method of expressing my most grateful thanks to the good people of Lancaster county for the kind, cordial and generous manner in which I have been uniformly received during the campaign now drawing to a close. I shall appreciate the support that may be given me in the election next Tuesday, and I now solemnly pledge the people that if I am elected to the office to which I aspire, that of County Supervisor, that I shall discharge its many duties to the very best of my ability. I feel confident of my ability and fitness for the office and shall leave no stone unturned to make my administration a success, in the event of my election.

I take this occasion also to thank my opponents for the courteous and friendly treatment accorded me throughout the campaign.

Respectfully,
Simeon J. Funderburk,
Candidate for County Supervisor.
(Paid matter).

Consider Seriously

Have you ever thought that your income will surely stop some day?
